BIP39:

Simplifying Crypto Wallet Backups

BIP39 defines a method to convert random cryptographic data into a sequence of easy-to-remember words known as a mnemonic phrase. Typically consisting of 12 to 24 words, this phrase acts as a backup for a user's cryptocurrency wallet. The words are selected from a fixed dictionary of 2048, reducing the chance of errors during recovery. An optional passphrase can be added for extra protection, making the wallet more secure. From the mnemonic and passphrase, a seed is generated that can deterministically recreate all wallet keys. BIP39 has become a universal standard, helping users safely manage their crypto assets with ease.
